H BEAM CUTTING SYSTEM

The H Beam Cutting System combines the versatile KAT® automation carriage with a motorized torch to provide precision and speed to the cutting of beams.

The carriage is mounted on a track which can be unlocked and adjusted to allow for angled cuts.

By automating the vertical and horizontal cuts of the beam, increased productivity and cost savings can be achieved while reducing material handling and improving cut quality.

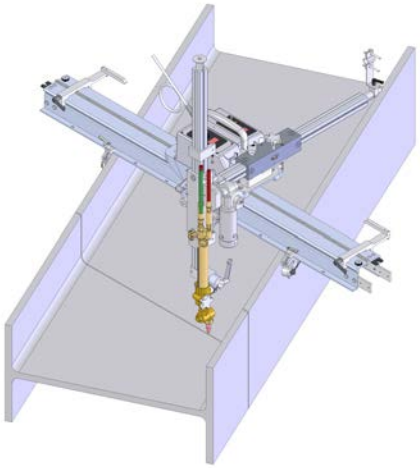
ANGLED CUT SETUP



The H Beam system is designed with a track mounting device which uses on/off magnets on a swivel hinge to provide both linear and angular cuts. The mounting device is unlocked which allows the track to swivel on its axis. This is ideal for applications which also require cuts to be made on a 45˚ angle for butting two beams together.
